

DRAGNET OUT FOR REDS IN GOTHAM TODAY

Alexander Berkman, Man Who Shot At Frick.
Arrested As Suspect But Released

SILVERSTEIN CURSES AN ACCIDENT

Which Prevented Him From Killing The Police As He Had Originally Intended To—Does Not Recognize Berkman When Latter Is Brought In.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, March 30.—Police headquarters are vigilant today unearthing suspects in Saturday's bomb-throwing of Saturday. Among the men arrested this morning was Alexander Berkman, the anarchist leader who served a long term in prison for the attempted assassination of Henry C. Frick.
Berkman was taken to the hospital where Silverstein, the bomb-thrower whose life may pay for his act, lies. It was hoped that Silverstein would show signs of recognizing Berkman and that much might be learned of the workings of the society that evidently planned the attack Saturday.
No Recognition
Although Berkman was taken to Silverstein's bed the latter failed to recognize him or show any signs of having seen him before. Later after being closely questioned by the police he was released, although he will be closely watched by the detectives who are ferreting every clue in the matter.
May Not Die
Silverstein may not die. He may even regain the sight of one eye and while crippled by the explosion of the bomb which went off as he was about to hurl it at the police, he curses his fate, which he says prevented him from killing the police as intended.
No Real Clues
Thus far the police have no real clues to work on and the real head of the mysterious attack can not as yet be learned and it is probable that until some definite information relative to Silverstein is obtained the persons who instigated his attack will remain a mystery.

SENATOR THOMAS H. CARTER OF MONTANA ABOVE AND REPRESENTATIVE RICHARD DARTHOLOTT OF MISSOURI BELOW.

[By Special Correspondent.]
Washington, D. C., March 30.—Representative Bartholdt of Missouri, chairman of the house committee on public buildings and grounds, today sent a split communication to Senator Carter of Montana in reply to his attack on the buildings and grounds committee of the house as follows:
"As to the bill of 1906, there is no pretense that any consideration was given to the subject anywhere. I find in the report which I have just received from the document room, dated June 25, 1906, fifty-ninth congress, first session, report No. 5011, a description of the purpose of each section of this bill of 1906, that is, the bill which contains section 21 (the Heber grant), and this is the reference made in the report to this particular section:
"Section 21 authorizes the acquisition of certain triangles in the city of Washington."
"Acquisition by whom? The only reasonable inference is an acquisition by the government of the United States, because the bill was passed for the purpose of enabling the government to purchase building sites. It carried about $20,000,000 for that purpose and the construction of buildings, and this, in so far as the records I have been able to trace show, is the only statement of purpose of section 21, which authorized and directed the secretary of war to convey this body of property to a stranger who had neither claim nor shadow of claim to any part or portion of it."
As explained by Mr. Bartholdt today, Senator Carter came to make this statement as a result of comparing the report on the bill with the law print of that measure instead of the bill itself as it came from the house committee on public buildings and grounds. For the bill was knocked into "shreds" in the committee, and when the law print was struck off section 21 in the original report referred in reality to section 20 of the bill, which is as follows:
"Section 20 authorized the sale of certain real estate in the city of Washington, D. C." And it is this section which had to do with the Heber grant, whereas section 21, to the language of which Senator Carter took exception, does authorize the "acquisition of certain triangles in the city of Washington" in full and complete language, the triangles in question being on Sixteenth street north of Columbia road and on the east side of Sixteenth street at the Place Branch road intersection.

HUGE BANQUET FOR BRYAN ON TONIGHT

Preparations Have Been Made for Twelve Hundred Diners in Kansas City.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Kansas City, Mo., March 30.—William J. Bryan arrived in Kansas City to be the guest of honor tonight at what is announced to be the biggest political banquet ever held in this country. Convention Hall has been engaged for the affair and arrangements have been made to seat more than 1,200 diners. In addition to Mr. Bryan the speakers will include several other democratic leaders of prominence.
The present visit of Mr. Bryan to Kansas City, the second he has paid this city within a month, is regarded as of considerable political significance. In the first place, Kansas City is the stronghold of the Taft supporters in Missouri. Then, according to report, the Bryan managers are somewhat concerned over the favorable reception with which the Johnson boom has met among the large Swedish element in the neighboring state of Kansas. To counteract the Johnson influence Mr. Bryan has arranged an early tour of Iowa, Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska.

MUCH INTEREST IN NEW YORK PRIMARY

Political Leaders Watch with Interest for Results of Election.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, March 30.—New York politicians, particularly the republican leaders, are keenly interested in the presidential primaries to be held throughout the state tomorrow. At these primaries delegates will be elected to the congressional district conventions, each of which will elect two delegates and two alternates to the national convention. Those will also be elected at these primaries delegates to assembly district conventions, each of which will elect its quota of delegates to the state convention to choose delegates-at-large to the national convention and also a new state committee.
As will be seen, the primaries will have an important bearing on the control of the republican state committee. It has been reported frequently of late that steps are under way to replace Timothy L. Woodruff as chairman of the republican state committee, and substitute a harmony candidate who is either an Odell or Roosevelt man. Meanwhile Odell and his faction are working day and night on their plans to overthrow the Parsons-Roosevelt-Woodruff combination.

WILL ELIMINATE POLITICS FROM MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

City Of Des Moines Votes On So-Called Commission Form Of Government.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Des Moines, Ia., March 30.—The men who will govern Des Moines during the next two years, under the so-called commission form of government, are being voted for at today's election. Des Moines is acknowledged as the originator of the commission form of government, as applied to American cities, and the results of her experience will be followed with close attention throughout the country. That the people themselves are alive to the importance of the occasion was evidenced by the early vote this morning, which was said to be larger than ever before at an election in this city.
The election today registers the final choice of the people in regard to the candidates selected at the primary two weeks ago. At the primary two candidates were selected for mayor and eight candidates were selected for commissioners from a list of forty-two that were voted for. The election today will result in the final choice of a mayor and four commissioners.
The chief aim of the Des Moines plan is the elimination of politics from the municipal government. So far the working out of the plan has been satisfactory. The recent primary was decidedly a people's election. Among the defeated candidates for commissioner were many old politicians who have held office in Des Moines for years. The highest vote given any one candidate for commissioner was for John MacVicar, a former mayor of the city and one of the founders of the American Municipal Reform society. Old-time politicians, including several former councilmen and other officeholders, were snowed under at the primary.
The two majority candidates being voted for today are A. J. Mathis, the present police judge, and Eugene Waterbury, who is regarded as a state candidate. Mathis is a democrat and Waterbury a republican. If the advocates of the plan hold to the rule of no politics and do not draw party lines Mathis is believed to have the best chance of winning.
Of the eight candidates for commissioner four are independent, one represents the labor element and the other three are looked upon as candidates of the "ring." Politicians predict defeat for the state members on the ground that, inasmuch as there was a concerted fight in the primary in behalf of the state members, the scattering vote will go to the independent candidates in the final election today.

CHESTER GILLETTE DIES AT AUBURN PRISON TODAY

Priests Who Hear His Last Confession Say That Justice Was Done The Murderer.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Auburn, N. Y., March 30.—Chester Gillette was successfully electrocuted in Auburn prison at 6:16 this morning. One contact of 1900 volts was all that was necessary. Gillette made a confession to his spiritual adviser. Regarding this they gave out the following: "Because of our relationship with Gillette which was privileged and we do not deem it wise to make a detailed statement. We simply wish to say no legal mistake was made in his electrocution."
The crime for which Chester E. Gillette forfeited his life in the electric chair in Auburn prison today was the murder of his sweetheart, Grace Brown, near Big Moose in the Adirondacks, on July 11, 1906. Gillette was convicted on circumstantial evidence after a sensational trial in which the pathetic love letters of "Billy" Brown, as the girl was familiarly known among her associates, to Gillette, played an important part. The girl who perished in the waters of Big Moose lake had trusted Gillette to make amends for the wrong he had done her by making her his wife, and her letters, which were found in the young man's room after his arrest at Eagle Bay, have been considered by many as classic in their simplicity and their tender pleading; for the right that was "due her."
The execution of the death penalty was stayed by an appeal to the court of appeals on January 10, 1907, and on January 8 last the case was argued. The court affirmed the judgment of conviction and fixed the week beginning March 30 for carrying out the death sentence.
Gillette's mother visited Albany and pleaded with Governor Hughes to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment, but the governor declined to interfere.
Even as late as yesterday Governor Hughes was petitioned to stay the execution on the grounds that the victim was subject to epileptic fits and had fallen into the lake and drowned.

PUBLISHED THE NEWS OF BOMB THROWING

Gazette Scores on the Chicago and Milwaukee Evening Papers That Reached Janesville.
Another striking illustration of the excellency of the news service of the Gazette was shown on Saturday evening, when the paper published a detailed account of the bomb-throwing episode in New York. The paper was received by the Associated Press wires late in the afternoon and was printed in the Gazette with the delay of but a few moments. None of the Chicago or Milwaukee papers that reached Janesville early in the evening had any news of the accident. The Gazette receives the Associated Press reports up to a late hour each day and furnishes its readers with the world's news later than any of the papers received here early in the evening.

REVIVAL OPENS AT M. E. CHURCH

FIRST MEETING REPLACED EVENING WORSHIP YESTERDAY.

"GOING TO HELL IN AUTOS"

Many People Speeding to Perdition, Says Evangelist—Christians Need Reforming.

Mr. Hart announced the program for the meetings for this week as follows. Services each day at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 in the evening. He urged all present to make it a point to attend the afternoon meetings especially, to get the spirit, in order to more effectively help in the night services.

The morning service was one of deep interest to a packed house. He spoke on the need of a clean life and a prayerful life in order to do the greatest usefulness.

In the evening he took for his text John 10:7-8. Mr. Hart is a rapid speaker, with good articulation and a way of putting things that compels attention.

Vice and Sin Prevalent

The text was taken from John, 10 chapter, seventh and eighth verses. "Nevertheless I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away; for if I do not go away the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, he will come into you, and when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin and of righteousness, and of judgment."

Taking as his keynote of his discourse the idea to carry the spirit of the holy ghost into the world, Mr. Hart launched forth into an earnest exhortation for better conditions socially, morally and religiously. In part he said:

"There never was a time when greater purity, among the church people especially, was needed more than it is now, when vice and sin are prevalent, and when each move of the Christian man or woman is watched and criticized by the fault-finding tongue of the world. The reason more people do not unite with the church is that they believe they can live as well outside the church as a great many live inside. In illustration of this point: If I were to walk down the streets of this city and ask any ungodly man I met, who had any gray matter in his head, the question, 'Do you believe in Christ?' his answer would come out of ten would be, 'How can I doubt the existence of a being who left such an influence behind him when here on earth, an influence that has torn down and rebuilt nations, that has ever been the herald of the highest type of civilization?' 'Going slower I ask him a second question, 'Do you accept the Bible as divinely inspired?' He answers, 'I consider the Bible the holiest of books.' 'Look on the principles of which are founded all laws of right living and on which the constitution of the United States is founded. Yet I sincerely believe in the divine inspiration of the Bible."

"Probing still further, I add: 'My brother, in our principles.' He shrugs over his shoulders and replies he could live better outside of the church than a great many people were doing inside. That is the main trouble. We as Christians do not live a life of purity and righteousness thereby giving the enemies an opportunity to criticize and find fault. The only way to stop this fault finding is to live such a life that there can be no just grounds for it."

Christians Understand Bible.
"Sinners can not be won to Christ by reading the Bible for they can not interpret the hidden meanings it contains. The Bible is essentially the Christian's book and can be understood only by Christians who have experienced the baptism of the holy ghost in their souls. When I was a small boy just large enough to make depredations on mother's cupboard, one time feeling conscience stricken for my misdeeds, I decided to do as mother did when she was in trouble, go to the Bible for some comforting scripture. Three successive times I found these not very comforting words: 'Be sure your sin will find you out, and the wicked shall be turned into hell, and the wages of sin is death.' I was not until after I had experienced the baptism of the holy ghost that I found those words: 'If we confess our sins he is faithful to forgive.' It is only after we have secured assurance of complete pardon that we are able to see the beauties of the scriptures."

Workers Needed.
"What the Christian cause today needs is workers who will carry on the Lord's work like they carry on commercial and industrial affairs. If the business men of this city ran their business like the men of the church, the church is run it would make them long to run their business into the ground. Religion and business go hand in hand. There is no such thing as a Sunday religion to be discarded during the week for other things. What the trouble with the people today is that they are grasping for the commercial interests and making religion secondary. I would rather live in the humblest hut in the land and live on bread and water than to go to hell in an automobile as a great many people today are going."

"The world is watching us; we must wait for the out pouring of the spirit in order to successfully cope with the forces of sin and iniquity. The time is ripe for a great movement against the forces of the devil. We have the money, the education and intellect to successfully carry on a campaign against sin here in this city. In order to do this we as Christians must be pure men and women thereby respecting our fellow men in their sin. We have not the courage to stand up for what we know to be right but often times stand by and allow the name of our heavenly father to be used in vain when we should reprove the wrong doer by a look of disgust or some other token of disapproval. Many people lose heart and give up in despair in the work of the Lord. In a negro meeting in the south the preacher said there was only one road which the Christians had to travel and one end of that led to destruction and the other to despair. One good brother raised up in his seat and said:

"If dat is so, brudder, I believes I takes to the brush." In concluding, Mr. Hart made the request that each Christian present kneel down before retiring for the night and ask God if there was anything lacking in their lives to fill them with a full measure of consecration.

BIG FIRE IN ILLINOIS TOWN.

Eight Business Houses in Norris City Are Burned.

Norris City, Ill., Mar. 20.—Eight business houses, with practically all their contents, were burned here Sunday, and the loss is estimated at about $27,800.

The blaze started in a drug store, owned by J. J. L. Burnett, and before the flames could be checked, the entire business section on East Main street was destroyed. One brick chimney is all that is left standing on the site of the eight buildings.

Father and Child Drowned.
Pacific, Mo., Mar. 20.—A wagon in which Henry Gilhouse, his wife and two infant children, were attempting to ford Meramec river, two miles west of here, Sunday was overturned by the swollen stream and the four were swept away. Gilhouse and one child were drowned. Mrs. Gilhouse and the other child were saved by fishermen.

A Homely Remedy.
A somewhat old-time but successful remedy for swollen feet is to bathe them in water in which wood ashes have been boiled. The water must be cooled and strained before the feet are placed in it.

BUYERS PACKING LITTLE TOBACCO

NO WAREHOUSE HAS FULL QUOTA OF EMPLOYEES.

MANY DEALERS ARE IDLE

Slump in Market and Large Holdings of High-Priced 1905 Leaf Responsible.

"Little tobacco" is being packed in Janesville this winter than for years. Only about half the buyers are packing and those that are packing are employing but about half their usual forces. This condition is due to two causes: the slump in the market and the poor quality of the 1907 crop.

One warehouse man said this morning that the cigar market was exceedingly dull and consequently there was no demand for binder tobacco, which is the class of leaf raised in Wisconsin. The financial stringency is given the credit for the falling off in the use of cigars. Men who formerly paid five cents for a cigar now invest in a package of tobacco and get twenty smokes instead of one for their money.

"Presidential Year" Poor.
The falling off in the consumption of cigars during February was not as large as during January. There was also an increase in the consumption of little cigars. These are evidences of improvement in the market, but it is an explicable fact that cigar consumption in presidential years is always poor and so the market will not become normal until after the fall election.

This lack of demand is not encouraging buyers to take much of the 1907 crop and is compelling them to hold the 1906. But those who have 1906, and there are a considerable number of them, are confident that they will realize well from the investment. They believe the 1906 crop was the best ever raised in Wisconsin and trust that, owing to the comparative failure of the 1907 raising, it will sell in the future at a very good price.

Bright Outlook for 1906 Crop.
As the Connecticut crop of 1907 was also very poor Janesville holders of 1906 are certain that a demand for their goods will come. Of conditions in the general market the New York Tobacco Journal says: "There is no doubt that within the memory of men there has hardly been such a poor year for the tobacco crops all over the world than 1907 seems to have turned out. Last year's Connecticut crop began because of its defective growth and that will help the holders of the Florida leaf. The destructive disqualifications of the Wisconsin leaf will give the holders of the 1906 crop a new lease of hope to realize on their predatory investment."

There is no disagreement among tobacco men regarding the failure of the 1907 crop. One dealer said this morning that after five weeks of riding he had come to the conclusion that only ten per cent of the crop was fit for smokers. Another buyer stated that the crop was being secured at one-third the price the 1906 crop was purchased at.

Buyers Who Are Not Packing.
The dealers who are not packing at all this winter but are holding the 1906 product are Sanford Soverhill, A. N. Jones, Thomas Welch, M. F. Green and Son, Fisher & Fisher, Geo. M. Decker, J. T. DeForest, J. A. Ryan and Julius Marquardt.

P. S. Balnes is running with 45 hands, about half his ordinary force, but with fair sized forces at three other points. George H. Russell is employing thirty-six at his local warehouse and about 50 at Evansville. L. B. Carle & Son, with 60 employees, are operating at about half their capacity. McGuffin & Birkenmeyer have just started packing with 35 hands and still being in the market for good 1907 leaf expect to increase their force. MacGee brothers are not yet packing, but will later in the season. Pember Brothers have 25 hands at work, but are hampered by the incompleteness of their warehouse. Others who are doing some packing are S. H. Heddes, Robert Erler, Joseph Grundy, Samuel Grundy and W. B. Conrad.

New Firm in Field

Pember Brothers are on their first season in the tobacco business. They have purchased considerable of the 1907 crop and are packing it at their warehouse on North Franklin street. This building was erected as a store structure by Henry C. Klein several years ago. It has been converted into a warehouse and further changes are now being made. A basement is being constructed for a work room and the first and second stories are being strengthened for storage purposes. Some packing has already been done, but while the further repairs and alterations are being made packing will be done at the Eagle warehouse, formerly operated by Mr. Rowe by J. M. Thayer. Mr. Thayer is in charge of the Pember warehouse. Beside the store building the Pember brothers have an adjoining brick structure, formerly used as a carpenter shop, which serves for storage purposes.

FISH AND FOWL AND THE WAYS OF MEN

Some Points from a Conversation with Deputy Game Warden W. W. Burgett of Whitewater.

Deputy Game Warden W. W. Burgett of Whitewater stopped off here today enroute for Elkhorn where he expects to give evidence for the state in the prosecution of a man charged with shooting pickers. The defendant has been advised by an attorney that he has a right to shoot fish within the borders of his own farm where the misdemeanor is alleged to have been committed. For two weeks past the pickers and some of the other fish have been going into the marshes and little streams to spawn and the wardens, are particularly active in their behalf. Until this year there has been no closed season for fishing on Elkhorn and Delavan lakes and it is turning out to be a rather difficult proposition to enforce the law in the vicinity of those bodies of water.

Thus far, according to Warden Burgett, there are no carp in Delavan or Geneva lakes but he thinks it is only a question of time when some lake over half a mile from the Rock River and its lakes will be dumped into those waters to establish there the curse overhunting.

The cherries in Lake Geneva never grow to be much over a pound in weight while at Nashotah, Oconomowoc, and other places specimens weighing three and four pounds are frequently encountered. They seem to run in big schools and Mr. Burgett recalled an instance at Nashotah during the winter when 50 men pulled out 5,000 of them through holes in the ice.

With regard to the abolition of the spring hunting season for ducks, he agreed with those who maintained that it was unfair to Wisconsin hunters to be denied the privilege while the migrators just over the line in Illinois were permitted to reap the benefit. He was quite sure, however, that the Stacker State legislature would pass a similar law at the next session. Judging from all reports that had reached him, the wild goose shooting is excellent. The season closes May 1.

SHOPIERE

Shopiere, March 30.—There are indications that "Hifany" and Shopiere will soon be connected by telephone. It will be a great convenience to a number of families.

The Aid society held a very pleasant meeting on Thursday last. Many ladies of this vicinity accepted the invitation to meet with the society. The occasion was heartily enjoyed and everyone present will be very welcome at every meeting.

M. Truesdell has been quite ill at his home, but is now showing some improvement.

The party to be held on Friday evening was postponed on account of bad weather.

The illustrated lecture on Monday evening was well attended. The lectures were enjoyed by many, but the pictures were not quite satisfactory. The entertainment advertised for Wednesday evening came to an abrupt ending. There seemed to be a misunderstanding about the terms of the agreement. We have good local talent who entertain for the asking.

(By Special Correspondent.)

Des Moines, Iowa, March 30.—The men to demonstrate the success of the much discussed "Des Moines Plan" of city government will be selected at the municipal election here March 30. The primary to select two candidates for mayor and eight for aldermen, from which eventually one mayor and four aldermen will be chosen, has been held. The result of the primary was that Judge A. J. Mathis, now police judge, received such a large vote that his election as the first mayor is now certain.

Judge Mathis will go in as the "heart" mayor. That was the one argument against him as a mayor, that his heart was too big. This is said because of the pledge system Judge Mathis, as police judge, has adopted here. During his term of office he has induced several hundred young men who appeared for the first time before him to sign the pledge and agree not to drink for six months. Invariably he has pointed out on the benches before him some horrible example of what liquor leads to. The judge once drank himself, he tells the young men, but he quit because he saw the bitter end. Judge Mathis claims that not over 10 per cent of the young men who sign the pledge ever appear before him the second time. This practice is undoubtedly a win for him commendation from the better class.

MISS FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

Miss Florence Nightingale has just turned to England from the Crimea in pursu of $250,000 and was subscribed for her and she devoted the money in the foundation of a school for training nurses. True to her early instincts she has refused to accept the gold medal going with the freedom of the city of London, which cost $2,500, and at her request the money has been given to the hospital and a simple oak casket given her. LONDON HOME OF J. PICKPOCKET MORGAN.

The London home of J. Pickpocket Morgan, Charlotte Knollys, Countess Holden, Morgan, at 13 Piccadilly Gate, West, has just been the scene of an important social triumph. Mr. Morgan, Pickpocket Morgan with a visit to his home is the end house in the picture. It is unpretentious in appearance, but contains curious and art treasures of untold value. EXPRESS MAN IS BRUTALLY SLAIN

MESSANGER ON SANTA FE TRAIN MURDERED BY ROBBERS.

DEAD BODY FOUND IN CAR

Two Bases Riddled of $1,000 and Jewelry—Shocking Crime Is Committed Near Newton, Kan.

Newton, Kan., Mar. 30.—O. A. Bailey of Kansas City, an express messenger of the Wells-Fargo Express company, was killed by an unknown person on Santa Fe train No. 115, between Florence and Newton, early Sunday morning.

The murder was a very brutal one, with robbery as the object. Both the local and the through safe were ransacked and at least $1,000 in money and some jewelry taken. Whether this is the full amount the robbers secured is not known.

Slain as He Slept.

The dead body of Messenger Bailey was found at four o'clock Sunday morning when the train reached Newton. It was stretched on the floor of the car, the head bent to a pulp and lying in a pool of blood. The back of the skull was crushed and the end of the car in which it was lying was spattered with blood. There was no evidence of any struggle, the indications pointing to the committing of the murder while the messenger was asleep.

Two Theories Advanced.

Two theories are held by the officers. One is that the robbers entered the car unobserved at Emporia, Strong City or some other point along the line, and concealed themselves until a favorable opportunity to commit the robbery occurred, and the other is that Bailey admitted somebody he knew and considered a friend.

When the train slowed down at the Missouri-Pacific crossing in the east part of Newton, two men were seen by the engineer to jump from the train and run south. The south door of the express car was found open when the train reached the Newton depot. It is believed these men were the robbers and that they made a detour around the business part of town to the west yards of the Santa Fe, where they may have boarded Santa Fe train No. 17, which left the depot 20 minutes after No. 115 arrived.

Three Men Are Arrested.

Three suspicious characters were taken off the blind baggage of this train when it reached Wichita and are being held for investigation. The officers were notified as soon as the murder and robbery were discovered, and within an hour posse were scouring the country. A reward of $1,000 has been offered by the Wells-Fargo Express company for the apprehension of the guilty parties. So far no trace of the robbers had been found.

The murdered man was about 30 years old and was only recently married.

Three Killed by Robbers.

Wheeling, W. Va., Mar. 30.—The bodies of Angelo and Tony Salvatore and Bernardo Degamon were found Sunday, each with a bullet in the breast, at Millers Station in Jefferson county, O., across the river from here, under circumstances which disclose a triple murder by robbers.

Two Killed in Feud Battle.

Whiteburg, Ky., Mar. 30.—Two men were shot to death and another seriously wounded as the result of a feud battle near Hemlock Sunday morning. Hiram Mitchell, Jr., and Wilbourn Osborn are dead.

DR. HILL NOW IS ACCEPTABLE

KAISER RECALLS ALL EXPRES-SIONS OF DISAPPROVAL.

Causes President Roosevelt to Be So Informed—Statement from the Berlin Foreign Office.

Berlin, Mar. 30.—Emperor William, having been fully advised as to the attitude of President Roosevelt and the feeling of the American public in regard to the alleged refusal of his majesty to receive Dr. Hill as ambassador to Germany in succession to Charlemagne Tower, has recalled all the expressions of disapproval he recently sent to President Roosevelt and would be pleased to receive Dr. Hill as ambassador.

The emperor has caused this view to be communicated to President Roosevelt.

The German foreign office has sent to the Associated Press the following official declaration on the subject:

"The notices which have appeared hitherto in the foreign press in regard to the Hill affair have originated in the erroneous impression that it was intended in Berlin to recall the approval given here last autumn to Mr. Hill's appointment. This has never been thought of. It is true that doubts subsequently arose as to whether Mr. Hill would feel himself comfortable in the post of American ambassador to Berlin, but these doubts have been removed, so that nothing stands in the way of Mr. Hill's nomination to the Berlin embassy, and he will be welcome in Berlin now, as he would have been before, or as any other unobjectionable representative would be who should be named by President Roosevelt.

"It is to be stated emphatically that throughout the whole incident the ambassador, Mr. Tower, has not swerved for one instant from the straight line of absolutely loyal and honorable conduct, both toward his own government and the Imperial German government."

STEVE ADAMS WELL GUARDED.

Attempt on Gen. Wells' Life Makes Sheriff Alert.

Telluride, Col., Mar. 30.—As the result of an attempt to murder Gen. Bulkeley Wells, general manager of the Smuggler-Union mines and mills at Pandora, Saturday morning, Sheriff Fitzpatrick is taking precautions to guard the jail in which Steve Adams, charged with the assassination of Arthur L. Collins, Gen. Wells' predecessor, is confined. The feeling against Adams is becoming more bitter from day to day. He is supposed to represent the element among the miners that believes in violence against the mine owners.

Gen. Wells, it is alleged, secured a confession from Adams in Idaho in which he implicated himself as the slayer of Collins, but Adams has since repudiated his confession and for this reason it is believed his friends think that if Wells should be got out of the way before the case comes to trial it would be difficult to convict Adams.

Double Crime by Rejected Lover.

Wellsville, O., Mar. 30.—Because Mrs. Spiros, wife of Constable William Spiros, refused to elope with him, George Snowden of Steubenville, O., Sunday shot the woman and then turned the gun upon himself. Snowden died almost instantly. The woman is still living, but physicians say her wounds will prove fatal. Both are negroes.

Railroad Pays a $300 Fine.

Mineral Point, Ill., Mar. 30.—The Chicago Great Western Railroad company, which was indicted last winter on two counts charging the sale of intoxicating liquor on its trains within this county, and which pleaded guilty to one indictment, has paid a fine of $300. The other indictment was dismissed.

MANY KILLED BY BLASTS IN MINE

TERRIBLE DISASTER IN A COAL
SHAFT IN WYOMING.

VICTIMS MAY NUMBER 70

First Explosion Snuffs Out 18 Lives and in Second a Big Party of Rescuers
Perishes.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Mar. 30.—Between 55 and 70 men lost their lives in two explosions in coal mine No. 1, owned by the Union Pacific Coal company at Hanna, Saturday. The explosions were caused by gas and coal dust and each was followed by fire.

The first explosion occurred at three o'clock, when 18 mine workers, including a superintendent and three bosses, were killed. The second occurred at 10:30 o'clock at night, snuffing out the lives of from 40 to 50 members of a rescue party, including State Mine Inspector D. M. Elias.

The wildest excitement prevailed Sunday in Hanna and at the mine, where hundreds congregated, including widows, children and other relatives of the victims. When the second explosion occurred additional appeals were telegraphed to all surrounding towns for assistance. One train was rushed west from Omaha, carrying officials of the Union Pacific railroad and the Union Pacific Coal company.

The bodies of four of the 18 men who lost their lives in the first explosion were located Saturday night, but owing to the increasing volume of gas, which threatened to explode at any moment, no effort was made to remove them to the surface.

Gas Ignited by Flames.

Fire started in the colliery last Sunday, since which time attempts at regular intervals have been made to extinguish it. Saturday it was deemed unsafe to send the miners down into the workings and they were notified not to report for duty. Superintendent Briggs, with a team of picked men, the best and most experienced hands in the camp, went into the mine to fight the fire, but at two o'clock the flames had got beyond their control and at three o'clock the fire connected with the wall of gas and a terrific explosion followed. The victims are all below the tenth level and it is likely that the flames consumed the corpses. A second explosion occurred at 10:30 at night in the east shaft, where a gang of 50 relief workers under State Mine Inspector Elias were about to remove four of the victims of the first explosion. The shaft was filled with debris and all air currents cut off.

Second Blast Kills Many.

The second explosion was more severe than the first, being felt in all parts of the town, and it is feared that 50 or 60 miners have been added to the death list. Miners and citizens rushed to the east shaft, where they were joined by the relief workers who were driven from the west shaft, which was also caved-in by the explosion, and all set to work to dig out the entombed men. Penetrating a short distance the rescuers came upon James Case, who was lying unconscious in the level. He could tell nothing about what happened inside, as he was badly injured.

It is feared that all the miners were either killed outright or smothered by the after-damp. As all were volunteers and their names were not taken when they entered, a list of the victims of the second horror will not be available until a house-to-house canvass of the camp is made.

Forces Hurry to Relief.

Additional men were summoned from neighboring coal camps and all available laborers in section and grading gangs along the railroad are hurrying to Hanna.

TROOPS REACH TREADWELL.

Their Arrival Is Unexpected—No Disorder Among Strikers.

Juneau, Alaska, Mar. 30.—At four o'clock Sunday morning Company F, Tenth Infantry, arrived at Treadwell on the army steamer Peterson, with orders from Gen. Brush at Vancouver to aid the local marshals.

The arrival of the troops was unexpected. There is no disorder here. A number of arrests of miners for carrying concealed weapons have been made. A peace committee of the union is keeping a strict patrol of the town, and there is little if any drunkenness. Superintendent Kinzie said that ten cases of powder were stolen from the Treadwell mine. This is denied by the union leaders. Kinzie admitted that as yet there has been no trouble. Troops have been brought as a preventative measure.

Attempt to Blow Up a Steamboat.

St. Paul, Minn., Mar. 30.—An attempt was made here Sunday evening to blow up the excursion steamboat C. W. Cowles, owned by Capt. George Winans of this city. A dynamite bomb with a slow fuse was placed in the private stateroom of Capt. Winans through a transom and was suspended from the ceiling. The bomb exploded, completely destroying three staterooms. The loss is estimated at $3,000. No one was on the boat at the time.

Novel Gift to His Native Town.

Chicago, Mar. 30.—Norman W. Harris, the Chicago banker, has made a novel educational gift to the boys of Hackett, his native township in the Massachusetts hills. Under the terms of the offer Mr. Harris will pay five dollars a week to every native born Hackett boy residing more than one mile from Hackett or Middleford stations and attending the high schools at Westfield, Pittsfield, Springfield or Lee.

Stop Indigestion

It is unnecessary. All the food that you eat can be digested, and should be. Kodol will always do it. No need of the pain, the gas and the poison that come from undigested food. Note our guarantee.

So long as you suffer the pains of indigestion, you are making a cure of the stomach impossible. Undigested food forms hard lumps in the stomach. It irritates the stomach lining. And neither Nature nor drugs can remedy the trouble while that irritation exists.

When the stomach fails to digest all of the food, it must be helped out. That is essential. Aid it and rest it, for there is no other way to recuperation.

Don't do this by dieting—not by starvation. For strength comes only through nourishment, and you need all you can get.

Do it by digesting the food, for a little time, with Kodol.

There is no cure for Dyspepsia, and you don't need one. The stomach must cure itself.

Tonics and stimulants may spur the stomach to action. But any weak organ is only injured by forcing.

The right way is to help out the stomach, as you would help out a lame foot. Stop the irritation, stop the formation of gas. Stop the pain. You will be astonished, we think, to see how quickly the stomach recovers.

There are, in these days, many aids to digestion. But they are only aids.

Pepsin, for instance, digests only albumen. It aids only to this extent.

But a very large part of your food is starch, and another large part is fat. They must be digested, too.

Complete relief requires a product that digests all sorts of food, and Kodol alone can do that.

No other product contains all the elements needed for perfect digestion. We have proved this in countless laboratory tests. There is no other aid ever made for the stomach which will completely digest any combination of foods.

A little Kodol taken after a meal will digest it, no matter what the meal consists of.

Another fact is that the action of Kodol is instant.

It is put up in liquid form, as it must be. All of the elements needed for digestion cannot be put up otherwise.

Being liquid, like the digestive juices, the action of Kodol begins as soon as it reaches the stomach. There is no delay, as there always is where a remedy needs to dissolve.

And Kodol does all that is necessary, while other digestors do scarcely half. It causes complete digestion, and that means complete relief. There is no other way to attain it.

Our Guarantee

We ask you to prove, at our risk, that the facts are as we state them. Buy a large bottle of Kodol, and ask your druggist for the signed guarantee. If you are not satisfied, take the empty bottle back with the warrant, and your druggist will return your money. There will be no quibble or question.

This offer applies to the large bottles only, and to but one in a family. That is sufficient to prove. Then please tell others how much Kodol does.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle.

March 30, 1908.

STATE OF WISCONSIN.

County of Rock—

To the Electors of Rock County:

Notice is hereby given that a judicial election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the county of Rock, on the 7th day of April, 1908, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, and the questions submitted to vote are stated below:

Twenty-six delegates for each political party to the National Convention for each such party called for the purpose of nominating a President and Vice President of the United States; four of said delegates to be elected in the state at large and two in each congressional district, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 512, laws of 1907.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters: A voter upon entering the polling place, and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk, which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving this ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment, and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. If a voter wishes to vote for some of the candidates of different political parties, he should make a cross mark under the name of each candidate he desires to vote for, or at any place within the space in which the name is printed. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office, whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot is spoiled it must be returned to the ballot clerk who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandums to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth, or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same to be chosen by the voter, and if he declares that he is totally blind he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath, in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are, for example, as follows:

When Baked Beans Are Baked Beans

Baked beans are baked beans only when they're baked—dry-baked—baked a golden brown, baked mealy, baked until they are nutritious—baked the home way, the only right way.

Beans cooked any other way are not baked beans.

HEINZ Baked Beans

are baked beans in every sense of the word. Not cooked in a soldered can. Not water-logged and soggy like beans that have never seen a dry oven. Every can of HEINZ Baked Beans has the same rich color and flavor, showing how uniformly they are baked. The inside of each tin upon opening is silver-bright, showing the superior tin in which they are put up.

In three different ways—With Tomato Sauce; Plain Pork and Beans (Boston Style); Vegetarian—Without Pork.

Examine a HEINZ Improved Tin. No solder inside. Closed air-tight by crimping. The best tin for the best beans—that's the idea.

STILL POLITICS

There is still a talk of politics in the air. The coming judicial election, the selection of republican and democratic delegates to the national conventions of the respective parties, is enough to excite the voter on election day even though the primaries have practically decided everything. There is going to be a great time when those delegates to the national republican convention are nominated. The law makes no distinction as to the classification of the candidates, La Follette or Taft, and it is left to the voter to know whom he wants his vote to count for. There are eight names for delegates at large on the ticket. But four of them can be voted for. If the voter can not decide which four and marks all eight his vote will be called defective and thrown out. He must know which four he wants to cast his ballot for, for Taft or for La Follette men. This same is true of the district delegates; only instead of eight names there are but four, while only two can be voted for by the citizen who desires his vote cast. These are on a separate ballot. Then there is the ballot for the judicial contest. Three names appear on this. Of course all the Rock county residents will vote for William Ruger for this office, so it is not necessary to name the others. Mr. Ruger is a man worthy of the honor he seeks. His campaign has been a dignified one, besetting the office he seeks and he should be elected. Of course there is the city politics, but with the exception of the second ward there is no contest for aldermanic honors and with all probability the vote will be light. The only question to bring a heavy vote out will be the choosing of the Taft or La Follette delegates and election of judge. These questions deserve the consideration of every voter of the city and should cause a heavy vote.

SHOULD BE READ IN CONGRESS

In a speech in the United States senate in 1838, Daniel Webster spoke these words: "There are persons who constantly clamor. They complain of oppression, and the perils of the republic. They cry out loudly against all banks and corporations, and all means by which small capitals become united in order to produce important and beneficial results. They carry on mad hostility against all established institutions. They would choke the fountain of industry and dry all the streams. In a country of unbounded liberty they clamor against oppression. In a country of perfect equality they would move heaven and earth against privilege and monopoly. In a country where property is more evenly divided than anywhere else they read the air shouting agrarian doctrines. In a country where the wages of labor are high beyond parallel they would teach the laborer that he is but an oppressed slave."

As one reads the Congressional Record from day to day during the present session of congress, and finds there clamorous attacks on banks and corporations and mad hostility against all established institutions, one cannot help wishing that some senator might also read the secretary of the chamber to read these words delivered by Webster seventy years ago.

TRAITS OF AFRICAN PYGMIES.

Explorers Tell of Peculiarities of Queer Race of People.

Pygmies are olimbar par excellence. The pygmy always gets up a tree somehow. If there are convenient vines he uses them, his big toes serving as thumbs; if there are no vines and the tree be thin, he grasps it with his hands and walks up; if the tree be thick he grips with his legs and nimbly works his way to the top. The pygmy is a powerful little man. During a thunder storm he may be heard imploring God to disperse it; but if the storm only continues in violence he changes his entreaty to beg protection from violence. Maj. Powell-Cotton's gunbearer saw a group of pygmies in the forest seated in a wide semi-circle, the men wearing their okapi belts and the women their beads and all their finery. They were busily eating round a table in the center. Each pygmy carefully placed a little packet of his particular provision on the table, which was soon laden with a supply of bananas, honey, and sweet potatoes. The pygmy teacher's explanation was that they were changing camp and by this ceremonial feast, invoked the supreme spirit to give them good luck in their new hunting grounds.

BOMB-THROWING

In New York an example of bomb-throwing has been given the public that fortunately ended just as it should. But the fact remains that in the chief city of the great United States bomb-throwing exists and men's lives are not safe from the attacks of the fanatics. The newspapers of the great cities are right. The danger is not from the ignorant worker, but in the man who furnishes the thoughts to them. The student who sits in his library and writes the attacks upon the police and conditions in general under the plea he is seeking the betterment of humanity—this is the man to be suppressed and the sneers of war are taken away from the masses.

Comptroller Ridgeley also drew a bank presidency. Too bad the government can not pay good men large enough salaries to keep them from the greedy private corporations that take them when they reach the zenith of their powers for Uncle Sam.

Can it be possible that Emperor William is partial to the brand of cigars that Ambassador Tower smokes and does not want his sources of supplies cut off or is he really angry at him.

The racing bill in New York has passed the legislature and this means that he of the soft voice and the checkered suit with private information is out of a job.

Supposing Mr. David Jayne Hill really becomes ambassador to Germany, will it not be slightly embarrassing to him to meet his friend William?

Illinois is now waiting and watching for Mr. Cannon's famous watch. They have endorsed him strongly and now want to see what is coming of the affair.

Why not ask that roaring well of Lathers to give us a line on the coming presidential election or even the choice of state delegates on April 7.

In Chicago the drivers of milk wagons are going to strike and the big dealers are going to use autos to distribute their wet goods with.

It will be time tomorrow night to discover if the old adage, "Come in like a lion—go out like a lamb," as regards March, is true.

Colorado again jumps into the line with another of those attempted assassinations that makes the reader shudder.

There is no sure cure for earthquakes and no sure means of forestalling them unless it be Lathers' well near Beloit.

New York is said to have two thousand illegal banks. There is an opportunity for the crooks to start a few more.

Beloit still enjoys politics in a manner befitting the germ that first started trouble in the Garden of Eden.

This is the time of the year when the weather man never knows whether to say rain or shine.

These spring cloudbursts are more fitting when the weather is warmer than just at present.

The big coal trusts are not organized to sell on credit; of that you may rest assured.

Mexican earthquakes are just as unpleasant as quakes in other parts of the country.

Bank speculations of Pittsburg youths have also reached a high water mark.

It takes more than a hotel fire to stop the Cannon boom in Chicago.

Be careful of that old hat and a brick under it on Wednesday.

Have you noticed how March has been stealing April's thunder?

Chicago is having a water scandal investigation.

REMEDY FOR WRITER'S CRAMP.

Various Ways of Overcoming Common Inconvenience.

What an annoyance it is to spend all your writing materials out and settle down to a whole afternoon of letter writing, only to find after half an hour that you have the writer's cramp. After the first letter or two you give it up in despair, and the friends who are waiting for letters are disappointed.

This writer's cramp is a serious matter to people whose work requires that they use a pen very much, while for the unaccustomed writer who takes an afternoon off now and then to catch up with her correspondence it is, to say the least, very discouraging. The trouble is more than muscular in this kind of cramp. Very often a low nervous condition will cause it. Then one should take it as a warning that the system is run down and needs general toning up. Very often, however, the trouble is in the way you hold your pen.

Children now in school are not likely to be troubled with writer's cramp, because they are being taught to hold the pen lightly and make all the movements from the arm instead of the hand. The old-fashioned method which most of us learned, of holding the pen between the thumb and forefinger is also very likely to encourage a cramp. The muscles become tense and hard, until finally they contract so much that all control over them is lost. The pen should be held between the two first fingers, well up toward the joint. The trouble may often be relieved by putting the hand and wrist into the hottest water one can stand.

LITERARY MECCA OF ENGLAND.

Famous Writers Who Lived in Twickenham—Tennyson's House.

The place to which the lover of English literature will sooner or later turn his steps is Twickenham. No other small town can boast of having been the residence and beloved abode of so many famous literary lights.

With it are associated the immortal names of Pope, Horace Walpole, Swift, Gay, Lady Wortley Montagu, Gibbon, Boswell, Johnson, Tennyson and Dickens. Surely this is enough to make any place doubly immortal! Twickenham was well nicknamed by Horace Walpole the Balaie, or Tivoli, of England; for it has truly been to London what Balaie was to ancient Rome—indeed, in a far higher degree.

The big red brick house in Montpelier road where Alfred Tennyson lived for so many years of his earlier married life was the one in which many of his earlier poems were written. Here his son Lionel, the second Lord Tennyson, was born, and there the author of the "Idylls" entertained many of his literary friends and acquaintances.

That house should surely be sacred to all lovers of English literature which saw the dawn of "In Memoriam," which witnessed those delightful gatherings graced by Tennyson, Hallam and kindred spirits within its walls.

WHEN TROUSERS WERE DECREE

On Their First Appearance Many Considered Them Indecorous.

It is hard to think back to the days when men did not wear trousers such as now encase the limbs of all the unaccustomed men. Harder still to believe that these garments were by many considered immoral on their first appearance, and that one of the most numerous of all religious denunciations for a long while forbade its ministers appearing in the pulpit clothed in apparel so frivolous.

It is a fact that trousers, introduced by the duke of Wellington, came in slowly and were for a long time looked upon as a light-minded departure from the serious and conventional in men's dress.

And now, should any sober-minded gentleman venture to lay these ubiquitous and ugly garments aside, and prance down the street clad in the brief knee-breeches and hose of his progenitors, he would no doubt incur the accusation of being an indecorous trifler.

ROLLER MEN NURSE WAN RAY OF HOPE

That Council May Decide Road-Charlton Question Tonight—Action May Be Taken on Sewers and Court Street Grading.

Will the city council decide the roller question tonight? The southerners and councilors say "No," while the faithful remnant of the old guard of agents, who came drifting in about sunrise, are doing what they can to make "Echo answer Yes!"

Said one of them: "I cannot believe that the members of this council whom we have given every opportunity to investigate the various makes of machines will be so unfair and so unbusinesslike as to turn this question unanswered over to the incoming aldermen who know nothing about it." Said another: "Several of the agents have been on the mat before the officers of their companies for wanting so much time and money in this town and have been told to give Janesville a wide berth hereafter, or send in their resignations."

Meanwhile another councilor with headquarters in Chicago, has just learned that this municipality is in the field for a roller and City Clerk Hader received a telephone inquiry regarding the matter on Saturday.

The agents on deck this forenoon were: A. N. Miller of Chicago, representing the Kelly-Springfield Co., and W. O. Kierman and Mayor David Zell of Whitewater, representing the Austin-Western Co. Mayor H. B. Heddes was in Stoughton this morning but was expected home in time to preside at the meeting. The question of adopting the plans for sewer construction; the petition against the grading of that section of Court street lying between Ruger and Garfield avenues and Liberty and Milwaukee streets which was referred to the highway committee; the claim of Mayor J. P. Hutchinson for salary for services to the city; and the claim of Edward Tracy for $82 and Sam Brown for $18 for special police services, are matters which were not discussed at the last session and may come up tonight.

Though badly bruised and battered, he escaped without any broken bones and was able to be upon the streets today.

MRS. FENTON WINANS TO CLEAR HERSELF

Former Janesville Woman Charged With Shoplifting at Elgin Thinks She Can Clear Husband and Self.

Word has been received from Chicago that Mrs. Fenton Winans, formerly Miss Fentler, of this city, who was arrested with her husband and brother-in-law, Newton Winans, at Elgin some days ago, will make an endeavor to clear herself and husband from the charge of shoplifting on which they were arrested. When the trio were taken into custody it was alleged that a quantity of stolen property from different Illinois and Wisconsin towns was found in their trunks. Mrs. Winans was released on bail, furnished in cash by herself and her husband and brother were held in jail. Newton Winans, it is alleged, made a confession to the police that he had stolen the property and was aided by Mrs. Winans and her husband. Mrs. Winans, who has been in Chicago, now claims she and her husband were innocent and secured funds to employ an attorney to defend herself and husband.

NOT TO RAISE TELEPHONE RATES.

The Article Published in Morning Paper Entirely Misleading.

The article published in the Recorder Saturday morning relative to an increase in the telephone rates to subscribers of the Rock County Telephone Co., is incorrect and entirely misleading. There will be no raise in rates as far as the general public is concerned. The Public Utility Law as enacted by the last legislature does not permit a public utility corporation to either accept or give any concession in rates, favors or in other ways to any individual firm or corporation other than is named in the published schedules. In plain words, everybody must be treated alike without regard to quantity of business involved, or any other item entering into the transaction. Heretofore newspapers have been granted special rates on account of the quantity of business transacted and the change in rate refers to them alone. The Recorder's information had to do entirely with this phase of the situation. The new rate effects only the newspapers.

Marie Antoinette's Guillotine.

The question is being mooted as to which was the first guillotine. On this point a sixteenth century machine with a steel blade, invented by one Jacques Collot, has been found to de-capitate sheep in the most admirable manner. Which machine of the type invented by Guillotin was first put to its dread use is not known, but that used for the execution of Marie Antoinette still exists in Berlin.

MAP SHOWING GEORGIAN BAY CANAL.

Washington, D. C., March 29.—Canada, as well as the United States, is beginning to realize the value of its natural resources. While the United States is developing its rivers and making use of them for navigation and water power, Canada is also giving attention to this very important part of developing its interior. Consul A. G. Seyfert of Collingwood, has just advised Washington that the engineer in chief of the Georgian Bay canal survey has presented to the Dominion parliament an extensive report which deals largely with the so-called Georgian Bay along the French river, a distance of 31 miles.

The approximate estimated cost of the canalization of the French river is $11,000,000. The plan of the Georgian Bay canal contemplates a ship canal of a depth of 22 feet, and provides for the creating of three reaches between the Georgian Bay and Lake Nipissing by means of locks and dams, the lift of the locks varying from 22 to 24 feet.

The report also contains a general review of the whole scheme from Georgian Bay to Montreal, a distance of 410 miles. It is pointed out that the present from Georgian Bay to summit level is 99 feet, while the descent from summit level to Montreal is 630 feet. This would be overcome by 27 locks, varying in lift from 10 to 50 feet. The report points out that the proposed canal would mean a great saving in distance from the interior to the British market. From Fort Williams to Liverpool via New York is 4,329 miles, while via the Georgian Bay canal it would be only 4,123 miles, a saving of 206 miles in favor of the route via the Georgian Bay, Ottawa and Montreal. The route is also described as practically a chain of deep lakes or wide river expansions, so that the construction of the proposed canal would involve the canalization of only 275 miles, leaving 337 miles of free navigation.

It is computed that the route will be about two days faster for each trip from the head of the lakes to an ocean port than any other route, apart also from its advantages in having an enormous superiority as to carrying capacity. This would naturally have a great tendency to reduce transportation rates on grain and other products and in case of congestion at the terminal elevators at Port Arthur and Port William, before the close of navigation the great depth of the waterway would enable the largest lake boats to reach an ocean port fully loaded without breaking bulk.

The geographical position of the waterway is also excellent, as it will be independent of all international waters, being fed at its summit by waters well within Canadian territory. Its northern latitude would also be of some advantage for the transportation of perishable foodstuffs during the hot season, as compared with the southern route through Chicago and the Mississippi river. The canalization of the Ottawa river will also be of distinct benefit by creating practically unlimited water power more than half developed, which will be available for all kinds of industries and from which a revenue could be derived.

One objection made by some of the opponents of the project, that it would freeze up sooner than the St. Lawrence, is met and controverted; but it is pointed out that even if the aver-

A vegetable caterpillar from the planting of a true caterpillar is among the marvels of the Pink Terrace region of New Zealand. Eating some tempting fungus spores on its way to its final burrow, the creature becomes transformed into a wood-like mass of fungus, with form and structure preserved. The caterpillar is now a vegetable root, from which a stem shoots up eight or ten inches, dropping other fungus spores.

OFFICE OF CITY CLERK, March 30, 1908:

DIRECTIONS FOR VOTING ON THE VOTING MACHINE: 1st. Close the curtain. 2d. Pull the Yellow Lever having on it the names of your political party over to the right until the Bell rings. (This will turn down the Pointers over the names of the candidates in your party.) 3d. If you wish to vote a Straight Party Ticket, leave the Pointers as they are (Down, in their voting position). But if you wish to "split," or "scratch," your ticket, turn up the Pointer from over the name of the candidate in your own party that you wish to cut out, and then turn down the Pointer over the name of the candidate you wish to vote for that office, and leave it there. 4th. Vote for the Judges in columns No. 15 and higher, by turning down a Pointer over each name you wish to vote for, and leaving it there. (As these are non-partisan officers, they must each be voted for individually, as their Pointers are not turned down by the pulling of the Party Levers.) 5th. Open the curtain. NOTE—unless you are sure that you know just how to operate the machine, it would be well for you to practice on some machine before election day.

Move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the right as far as it will go.
This will close the Curtain around you, and unlock the machine for voting.

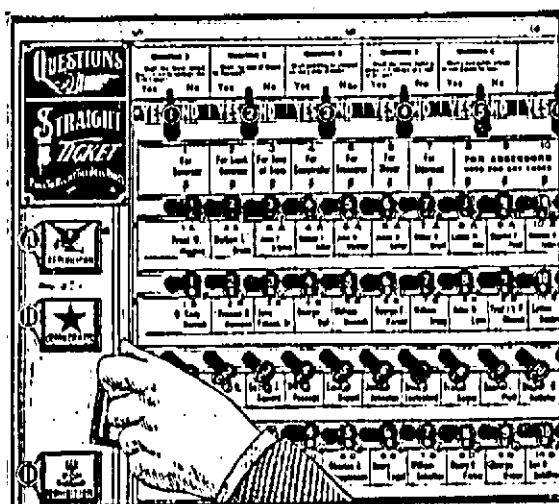

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE THE CURTAIN.

To vote Yes, turn the Question Pointer to the word Yes, leave it there. To vote No, turn the Question Pointer to the word No, and leave it there.

Having closed the Curtain—Pull the Party Lever bearing the name or emblem of your Party over to the right UNTIL THE BELL RINGS, and then let it go back. This turns down to a voting position all of the Pointers of the candidates of your party.

The ringing of the bell signifies that the Party Lever has been pulled far enough to unlock the Cartain Lever and engage the registering mechanism.

VOTER PULLING OVER PARTY LEVER.

The turned down pointers indicate the names of the candidates for whom the vote will be cast.

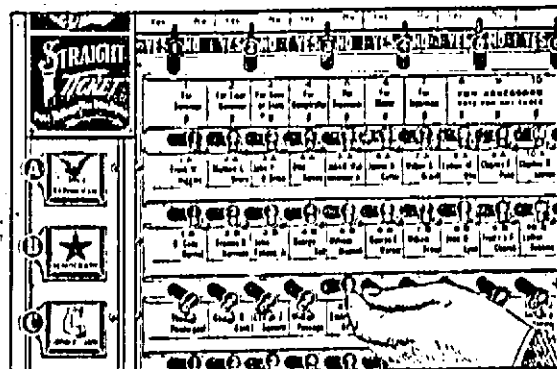

Leave the Pointers as they are (down in a voting position).

Move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the left as far as it will go.

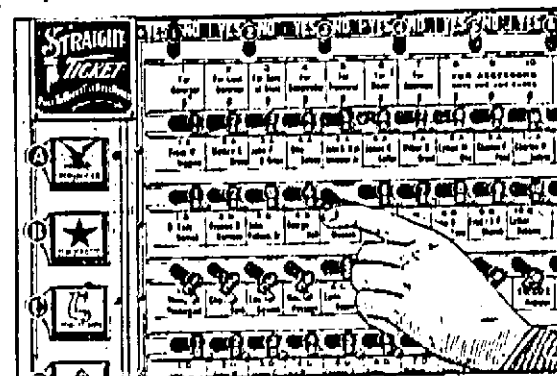

This will count your vote, open the Curtain, and set the machine for the next voter.

Having closed the Curtain—Pull the Party Lever bearing the name or emblem of your Party over to the right UNTIL THE BELL RINGS, and then let it go back. This turns down to a voting position all of the Pointers of the candidates of your party.

Turn back (up) the Pointer from over the name of the candidate you wish to cut. See illustration below.

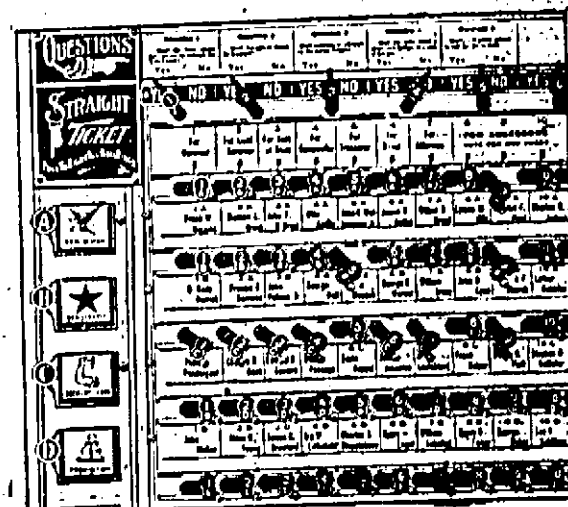

And then turn down a Pointer over the name of the candidate you wish to vote for for that office. See Illustration below.

Be sure to complete each Split before making another.
For an office to which two or more candidates are to be elected, the required number of candidates can be voted for, but no more, regardless of position.

After the vote is arranged, move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the left as far as it will go. This will count one vote for every candidate that has a Pointer left down over his name.

To vote Yes, turn the Question Pointer to the word Yes, and leave it there. To vote No, turn the Question Pointer to the word No, and leave it there.

THE ABOVE CUT SHOWS

That the voter has voted Party Lever "C", and then—
Split his vote for Treasurer, on Column 5.
That he has voted for Assessors, voting for three on Column 9 (for which office he is permitted to vote for any three candidates on either of the Columns, 8, 9, and 10).

That he has not voted on Questions 3 and 5.

If the voter desires, he may make any further changes while the Curtain remains closed, as the vote is not registered until the Curtain is opened.

The Pointers must be left down over the names to be voted for. If the voter turns them back the vote will not be counted, as the opening of the Curtain turns back the Pointers and counts the vote.

Man showing the route the Atlantic squadron will take in completing its journey around the world. From San Francisco the fleet, now in command of Admiral Evans, will continue to Hawaii, then to the Australian cities of Sidney and Melbourne. Great preparations are being made to welcome the American fleet at Australia. The news of its projected trip was received with great applause in the public squares of Sidney and other places. From Australia it will proceed to the Philippine Islands; thence across the Indian ocean up the Red Sea, through the Suez canal and through the Mediterranean sea into the Atlantic ocean and back to New York and Hampton Roads, thus having completed the entire circuit of the world. This will be the first time in the world's history that a complete squadron has circled the globe, and will do much to raise the estimate of the American navy among the world's powers.

Procrastination.—This is a habit that clings obstinately. Putting off a duty is practically equivalent to performing it twice over, for the dread of it is quite as wearing as the actual work. The greatest success is attained by cultivating a plastic memory and refusing to think of a task till actually face to face with it. Then one's whole attention can be devoted to it till the thing has been completed and pushed into the background. It is the eternal dwelling upon matters that sickens the brain.

BEST ON SYSTEM

BUILDINGS ARE MODELS IN EVERY RESPECT.

EQUIPMENT IS THE FINEST

All Latest Improvements Utilized—Old Roundhouses to Be Used as Tobacco Warehouse.

There is no more complete or perfect railway yard on the whole North-Western system than those about to be opened in South Janesville. The roundhouse, shop buildings, offices, necessary and equipment are models. Most of the improvements, which are the latest, have been tried and proved successful in various other places and will be no exception here. The materials made in building yards at other points have made it possible to avoid inconveniences in these yards.

The yards can not be used until the double track from the lower end of the city yards to tower YD, which is now at the lower end of the South Janesville yards, is completed. A work train with a force of a hundred men was put in service today to build this track.

When the yards are taken possession of about April tenth the company will be hampered by poor accommodations for employees and by the numerous troubles attendant on moving, but none the less the settlement will be rapid—railroad companies do not work slowly and furthermore the North-Western company needs the accommodations afforded by the new yards.

Increase in Force of Men

At first the yards will be used only for the transfer of business that is, naturally, done here. Later much sorting of freight new cars at Fort-tenth street, Chicago, will be done in South Janesville.

The removal will immediately necessitate an increase in the force of roundhouse, shop and yard employees. The increase will probably not be large at first but the enlargement will be gradual and steady until an immense force is at work probably by next fall.

The quarters of the motive power, bridge and building, and car departments in the city yards will be dismantled. The frame buildings will be removed or torn down and the substantial structures leased. The roundhouse, it is rumored, will be converted into a tobacco warehouse. The city yards will be used entirely for local freight business and improvements for the better handling of that work will be made.

Yards Truly Mammoth

As a yard the South Janesville improvement is a mammoth affair. Covering a three-hundred-acre tract through a long, thin, narrow strip of land, the yards are spread over a vast territory. The fourteen miles of side-tracks, store tracks, thirty-stall roundhouse and other buildings do not extend to the limits of the yard and with adjoining land available at any time it would seem that there is good foundation for the belief that in time all the Fort-tenth street yarding will be done here.

In arrangement and equipment the new roundhouse surpasses all others owned by the North-Western. The thirty stalls make three-fourths of a circle, forty-two being possible. The circle is completed by three main tracks leading into the yards and ten engine tracks. In the center is a seventy-five-foot turn-table, large enough to turn the biggest locomotive used by the company. This table is provided with turning handles, but is to be turned by compressed air. Thus the simple opening of a valve will turn the heaviest engine.

Excellent Light in Buildings

The interior of the roundhouse is nearly as light as outdoors. Sun-light comes in at windows in the rear, in the doors at the front and in the roof. White ceiling and white walls reflect this light. Artificial light for use at night and on dark days is provided by numerous incandescent lights hung in rows of three between stalls. The same excellent light is found in the shops and other buildings. Throughout the plant there are 200 incandescent lamps and two arc lights.

The stalls of the roundhouse are seventy-five feet in length. Made of concrete, the pits are an improvement over those lined with brick. By virtue of their length and the eight-foot length of the lower ends of the smoke stacks, under which the smoke stacks must be placed, it will not be necessary to spend valuable time in carefully placing the engine after it comes into the house. These smoke stacks assure the carrying out of all smoke and soot and workmen will not be blinded at times as in the old house. Soot will engine over be developed in steam. Steam pipes leading out of the roof can be connected with the domes of boilers and locomotives blown off without filling the house with a cloud of steam. In one pit is a "drop" for removing small wheel trucks which have to be repaired and in another is a drop for pairs of drive-wheels.

Hot Air Heating Plant

The roundhouse, like the shops and other buildings, is to be heated by a hot air system as up to date as any used in the Chicago public schools. The heating plant is made by B. F. Sturtevant, New York. A fan, 12 feet in diameter and 6 feet in width, which at a maximum speed of 150 revolutions a minute or normal speed of 100 and draws the cold air from outdoors through coils of steam pipes and forces it via ducts to all parts of the buildings. The steam coils are arranged in three banks, each 75x33 feet. The fan is run by a special engine manufactured by Sturtevant. The offices are heated by steam as the hot air drafts carry more or less smoke and dust and at North Fond du Lac where the hot air plant heats the offices the officers and clerks are more or less grimy in appearance.

The machine shop is to be larger and equipped better than that in the city. The shifting is now being put in and the blacksmith shop is to be in a separate room.

The stationary engine is a Westinghouse Standard, single action, high-speed machine of seventy-five horsepower. All the machinery, except the fly-wheel which make 250 revolutions a minute, is invisible, being encased and running in all the two boilers, which are of 100-horsepower and each has 41 one-inch flues. The engine in this shop holds 80 tons of fuel.

In this shop-building are the model head-quarters just off the machine shop and the storekeeper's office at the further end. Both rooms have hardwood floors and will have beautiful furniture. In the center of the roundhouse is a telephone booth for the use of the callers.

No Better Equipped "Store"

The storekeeper's office adjoins the "store." This is on two floors and is large enough to carry thousands and thousands of dollars' worth of supplies and repairs. On the basement floor will be kept the heavy supplies which can be brought to the ground floor on a concrete runway. Supplies from the other floor can be brought down to the shops on a similar runway. The floor of the upper room is on a level with floors of cars standing on the side-track along the building and over a platform from the track to the "store" supplies can be unloaded directly into the "store."

In the two rooms shelving, which has from four to nine shelves from floor to ceiling, extends a distance of 450 feet.

The feature of the store is the system of drawing and measuring oil. Automatic measuring pumps, worked by compressed air, connect with the tanks which are placed underground in a separate building a hundred feet from the shops. The tanks are immense, holding quantities as follows: signal oil, 1,688 gallons; valve, 1,688; kerosene, 4,210; car, 4,210; fuel, 2,680; mineral oil, 1,285. The size of these is shown by comparison with the tanks now in use which hold from 100 to 150 gallons. This storehouse is the first of a number like it to be built at big centers on the system, such as Durand, Winona and Milwaukee.

When this series of buildings are constructed oil will be shipped in tank cars instead of barrels, each car making the rounds of the various big "stores."

To Provide Hot Water for Washing

Locomotive boilers and to supply heated water to engines where steam is wanted in a hurry a large hot water system has been built just outside the boiler room. This wall, holding 12,000 gallons, is supplied with water from the city water supply and is over-riding by an automatic shut-off, similar to that used in water tanks. There is no expense connected with heating the water as the exhaust steam from the engine utilized for the purpose keeps the water at a temperature of 125 to 140 degrees. The use of hot water in washing boilers is economical as cold water causes sudden contraction of the steel, which considerably shortens the lives of boilers.

Rest Room for Enginemen

Outside of roundhouse and machine shops are two wooden structures. In one is to be the car-repairers' shop and headquarters of the bridge and building department and in the other a rest room for enginemen and firemen. Besides the building the car-repairers have another novel accommodation in the form of a dummy track between the two "dummy tracks." On this dummy track a small truck facilitates the movement of heavy repairs and tools.

The enginemen's rest room, a structure 18x35, is for the convenience of men who come in from runs and are going out again within a few hours. In one room are to be some bunks for "naps" and in the other is to be an immense reading table filled with literature that will interest railway men. Chairs around the room will furnish sitting and lounging accommodations. In one corner are four tiers of cupboards to be used for keeping good clothes belonging to enginemen. Other cupboards, one for every fireman and engineman whose engine is placed in the roundhouse, have been placed on the rear wall of the roundhouse.

While the railroad has thus been gracious in furnishing accommodations for employees the outside world has not greatly excelled itself. The South Janesville Improvement company has erected a hotel, with room for a general store, but this has not yet been completed and will not be for two months. The fare on the Interurban is ten cents and the schedule not convenient. If the service could be bettered or if the city car line could be extended conditions for the men would be improved.

Coal Handled Like Water

The coal shed and chute is after the latest pattern. In it hand-shoveling is not at all necessary. Drop-bottom coal cars are run up into the shed and dumped into a hopper with a capacity of 250 tons. From this hopper the coal is let into buckets and hoisted by an auto gas engine, which uses gasoline as fuel, to the top of the shed. From there it runs into the chute which is nothing less than a spout like that used on water tanks. The coal is put into the engine tenders just as water is put into the tanks. Of course in such a shed the coal cannot be weighed but an expert on judging weights from cubic measurements will be employed and the locomotives charged with the amount of coal just as they are with the weighing of coals. With this chute an engine can receive coal in less than two minutes.

Now the coal shed is the sand yard. The bin is 24 feet wide, 200 long and 9 high and holds fifty-five carloads of sand. The sand is heated by stoves the same as at present.

ROARING WELL A

QUAKE PROPHET

LATHERS WELL NEAR DELOIT IS BEING INVESTIGATED.

BLOWS WHEN PERIL IS NEAR

Has Made Good for Third Time in Three Years by Foretelling Earthquakes.

ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE "ROARING WELL" PHENOMENON.

April, 1906—Roared for two weeks prior to San Francisco earthquake, ceasing April 18, the day of the quake. April, 1907—Active for two days; earthquake in Mexico City killed 100, March, 1908—Began roaring March 13; ceased Thursday, day of the fatal earthquake at Chihuahua, Mexico.

The strange of calamity prophets—the "roaring well" on the farm of Charles Lathers, two miles northeast of Beloit, has become an object of interest to scientists in Chicago and elsewhere, following the publication of the fact that the well had "made good" in predicting the earthquake at Chihuahua, Mexico. The fulfillment of the well prediction, uttered like the oracles of mythological days, through a sonner climber and a strong wind, has raised the superstition of residents of the district to a high pitch. Most notably in the case of the San Francisco calamity; again a year ago, when a seismic disturbance struck Mexico City, and now a third time the well has sounded forth its warning of a calamity in the unknown depths of the earth whence proceed the tremblers.

Discussed by Prof. Salisbury

Prof. Rollin D. Salisbury of the geological department of the University of Chicago is unable to explain what connection there might be between the tremors of the earth and the roaring well. He said:

"The roaring of the well is probably due primarily to its physical location, it is probably in a place susceptible to atmospheric conditions and the roaring sound that preceded the earthquake was caused by an indirect or outward of air. Whether a seismic quality locally, near the well would record any earthquake shock at the same time that the roaring commenced or show any earthquake conditions before the shock I would not state, because in this case the distance to Chihuahua is so great and the cause of the roaring well so unusual. I have heard of roaring wells before, but usually the sounds emitted were not great and caused either by the atmospheric conditions or the movements of underground water."

The Well Investigated

The principal feature is that a strong draft of air rises from the well with a roaring sound and with such force as to blow papers high into the air and to cause a wheezing and whistling through the cracks of the boards over the top. The first time the blowing of the well was noticed was two years ago, at the time of the San Francisco earthquake. Starting on April 1, 1906, it continued steadily two weeks and ceased during the day of April 18. This is the longest period that the blowing has ever continued. Again last spring it was noticed for two days and it also happened that there were seismic disturbances in Mexico at this time. Then, came the latest blowing of the well, beginning about two weeks ago.

Owner Unable to Draw Conclusions

Mr. Lathers, the owner and occupant of the farm where the well is located, has much interest in the strange conditions which have prevailed, but he has been unable to draw any conclusions as to the cause. He was born in Turtle township of Rock county, only a few miles from the well now lives in 1867, and has resided on his present farm for the last sixteen years. The farmhouse was built by Samuel W. Hart in 1841 and was long known as the Hart farm. The well was put in at the same time. The house is of red brick, and the well is located in a wooden shed at the rear.

The well is dug down forty feet and a six-inch pipe is driven seventy feet further. This pipe comes up only to the bottom of the well, but a smaller pipe reaches from the pump at the top down forty feet into the large pipe to water. The dug well is three feet in diameter and is laid up with brick at the bottom and stone above the brick.

Blowing Noticed Since Inclosed

Until three years ago the well was in the open, but Mr. Lathers has now built a kitchen over it. He thinks that the currents of air may have come up before, but were not noticed when the well was still out of doors. At any rate, the blowing has only been felt and heard since the well was inclosed. Mr. Lathers says that twice during the long disturbances at the time of the San Francisco earthquake the currents of air reversed and sucked in rather than blew out. The sucking was so strong as to draw in papers and feathers from several feet away. At none of these disturbances, however, was the water rolled in the least, nor were there any gases given off.

TO INITIATE CLASS

ON TENTH OF APRIL

Woodmen of the World Plan to Have an Initiation Here on That Date.

Janesville Lodge No. 127, Woodmen of the World, are planning to initiate a class of twenty-five new members of the tenth of next month. A team and officers from Beloit Lodge No. 2, W. O. After the initiation, which will be held in the Spanish War Veterans' hall, the members will partake of a supper and a smoker. A committee consisting of Wm. Russell and Charles Kruse have charge of the local arrangements.

The local lodge of Woodmen of the World is about six months old now and is rapidly growing.
